DAHLIAS

Visit our Gardens in early October and see them in bloom. This will be better than any description we can give.

Dahlias should be planted after May 15 in this vicinity.

*Dahlia ratings are from "1926 Dahlia Ratings" by Prof. J. B. S. Norton, of American Dahlia Society, Southern Trial Gardens, College Park, Maryland.

Gladiolus may be planted in the spring as soon as the condition of the ground will permit.

Should a continuous succession of bloom be desired, plant every two weeks until about July 1.
